

26 February 2014

SENT TO LSU AGCENTER/LOUISIANA FOREST PRODUCTS DEVELOPMENT CENTER - FOREST SECTOR / FORESTY PRODUCTS INTEREST GROUP

Hancock Timber Resource Group-Summer Internship Program

Each summer, Hancock Timber Resource Group (HTRG), a global timberland investment manager, sponsors a student to spend 10-12 weeks during the summer working as an intern with our economics research department. The focus of the internship is to undertake a research project on a topic of relevance to the timberland investment business and of interest to HTRG. By the end of the summer, the student is expected to present the results of his/her research to the HTRG investment staff.

Richard P. Vlosky, Ph.D.
Director Louisiana Forest Products Development Center
Crosby Land & Resources Endowed Professor of Forest Sector Business Development
Room 227, School of Renewable Natural Resources
Louisiana State University
Baton Rouge, LA 70803
Phone (office): (225) 578-4527
Fax: (225) 578-4251
Mobile Phone: (225) 223-1931

